

Facing above Commissioning the amphibious assault ship Sumter, 14 December 1969. The Sumter, along with the amphibious command ship Blue Ridge, commissioned in 1970, marked the end of new ship construction at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. Temple University Urban Archives.